His fight to put the GET-RICH-QUICK CONCERNS out of business is meeting with a swifter success than even he thought it would, because the men operating them are usually such clever scoundrels that it is hard to detect them.

But the Postmaster General has got them on the toboggan all right and it won't be long before they will get

The hundred million dollars they have already taken out of the people, luring them to invest in fly-by-night schemes, should be sufficient reason for sending them to the Atlanta or some other prison. THEY WILL GET THERE ULTIMATELY.

But how were these get-rich-quickers able to get all of this money out of the people?

IT WOULD NOT HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE EXCEPT THROUGH PUBLICITY.

They bought the publicity from pub-

"From the standpoint of public order the park is a necessity. It is a simple, statistical fact that the policing of 1,000,000 people in parks is not one-tenth as costly as the policing of 50,000 in the streets, saoons, and congested housing districts. On a purely economic basis the city can better, at any cost of money, provide adequate park systems than add to its lue-coated army of policemen."

Passing briefly over city, county, and State park work, Mr. McFarland took up in close discussion the national forest

"The time has come," he said, "when the Federal government needs a park plan. It has never purchased parks, but simply retained certain areas. They are not located with any definite relation to accessibility or are they distributed with any relation to proportion.

"It is, however, a pleasure to state that the beginning of a modern policy in respect to national parks is in sight.

President Taft, in his last message to Congress recommended the establishment of a bureau of national parks. In this he follows the admirable suggestion of Secretary Ballinger, who, in a recent recommendation for the creation of such a bureau, said:

"There should be such planning of a consistent and broadly considered scheme as will fit the future needs of our country, and be in line with the policy outlined by the first President, without which planning no such civic convenience, beauty, impressiveness, and national dignity

Especially interesting was Mr. David

Farchild's talk on "New plants for people's gardens." Mr. Farchild, in his official capacity as head of the Bureau of Plant Industry, has had many notable opportunities to thoroughly master his subject, and his lecture was frequently punctuated by hearty applause.

The closing lecture of the afternoon was delivered by J. Lockie Wilson, secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Association, of Canada. Mr. Wilson told an interesting story of the work of the Canadian government in encouraging the development of horticulture through general moral and financial support.
